Introduction

This strategy sets out the key priorities for the North Somerset Community Safety Partnership in tackling anti-social behaviour (ASB) and outlines the areas for action over the next three years.

Everyone has the right to feel safe in their own homes and neighbourhoods. We know that, where left unchecked, anti-social behaviour can have an overwhelming impact on its victims and on the wider community. This is why the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 seeks to put victims first, giving power to local people and enabling professionals to find the best solutions for their local area. The act also provides the police, local authorities and other local agencies with a range of flexible tools and powers that can be used to respond quickly and effectively to anti-social behaviour.

In developing this strategy, partners have worked together to consider how we can encourage reporting, support victims and use tools and powers robustly to secure the best outcomes.

Our Anti-Social Behaviour Principles

We have adopted the national set of anti-social behaviour principles, developed by the Home Office which seek to describe a consistent approach to understanding and addressing Anti-Social behaviour (ASB) in local communities.

- 1. Victims should be encouraged to report ASB and expect to be taken seriously. They should have clear ways to report, have access to help and support to recover, and be given the opportunity to choose restorative approaches to tackling ASB.
- 2. Agencies will have clear and transparent processes to ensure that victims can report ASB concerns, can understand how the matter will be investigated and are kept well informed of progress once a report is made.
- 3. Agencies and practitioners will work across boundaries to identify, assess and tackle ASB and its underlying causes. Referral pathways should be clearly set out between services and published locally. This includes pathways for the community trigger and health services.
- 4. The public's ASB concerns should always be considered both nationally and locally in strategic needs assessments for community safety. Best practice should be shared through a network of ASB experts within each community safety partnership, each policing area and nationally.
- 5. Adults and children who exhibit ASB should have the opportunity to take responsibility for their behaviour and repair the harm caused by it. Agencies should deliver appropriate interventions, which may include criminal justice options, based on the seriousness, risks and vulnerabilities of the case.

These principles have been embedded into this strategy to help develop our priorities
